PENALTY NOTICE FINES FOR TERM-TIME HOLIDAYS ARE CHANGING

1

First Offence

The first time a Penalty Notice is issued for an unauthorised term time holiday the fine amount will be:
£80 per parent, per child if paid within 21 days.
Increasing to £160 if paid between days 22-28.

2

Second Offence (within 3 years)

The second time a Penalty Notice is issued for unauthorised absence the amount will be:

£160 per parent, per child, payable within 28 days.

3

Third Offence and any further offences (within 3 years)

The third time an offence is committed a Penalty Notice will not be issued and local authorities will need to consider other available measures to address the absence concerns. This may mean that cases are presented before a Magistrates' Court. If convicted, sanctions can include a fine of up to £2,500 and a prison sentence of up to 3 months, and you will have a criminal record.

Cases found guilty in the Magistrates' Court can show on the parent's future DBS certificate due to 'failure to safeguard a child's education'.

Who may be fined?

Penalty Notice fines are issued to each parent who allows their child to be absent from school.

National Threshold:

All schools in England must consider a Penalty Notice when a pupil has 10 unauthorised absences in a 10 school-week rolling period. For example, a 5-day holiday would meet this threshold.

FAQ's

If I go away do I need to tell school?

If you are planning to leave your child in the care of someone else, whether it is an older sibling, relative, or another guardian, it is crucial to inform the school and provide us with their contact details.

This enables us to stay connected in case of emergencies and ensures clarity regarding decision-making for your child's welfare.

Home visits— why do they happen?

In cases where we have concerns about a child's attendance, welfare or safety, we may conduct home visits. If we have not received any communication regarding your child's absence, we will attempt to reach you through various channels such as phone calls, emails, and messages. If we are still unable to make contact, a home visit will be scheduled to ensure the safety and well-being of everyone involved.

Should my child attend school if they are anxious or worried?

It is normal for children to feel a little anxious sometimes. They may get a tummy ache or headache or have problems eating or sleeping. Avoiding school can make a child's anxiety about going to school worse.

It is good to talk about any worries your child may have such as bullying, friendship problems, schoolwork or sensory problems. We will work with you to find ways to help them. If your child is still struggling and it is affecting their everyday life, please come and speak to a member of the safeguarding or attendance team. We will then be able to advise you on advice and support that is available to you.

What are persistent absentees (PAs)?

Persistent absentees are those children who have missed more than 10% of their school sessions. In a year there are 190 teaching days. If a child misses 19 days or more over a year, they will fall into this bracket. Children who are persistently absent, for whatever reason, are monitored to ensure their attendance improves. The school will send letters informing you of your child's attendance and hold meetings to discuss how we can work together to try to improve your child's attendance.

What Constitutes Medical Evidence?

- Prescription or prescribed medication including the child's name
- Documentation of a GP or hospital appointment, such as text messages, emails, or appointment cards
 - Hospital appointment letters
 - Medical and Dental Appointments: Whenever possible, appointments should be scheduled outside of school hours. If this is not feasible, please provide documentation of the appointment, such as an appointment card, letter, or text message.
